made to this great undertaking. The canal will be built. Of that there is no doubt whatever. If the present survey be not sufficient, another will be made, and ultimately the project will be accomplished. Before the construction of the Panama Railway, the United States entered into a treaty with New Granada guaranteeing the perfect neutrality of the isthmus, and the interest thus avowed cannot be withdrawn now. The canal should be made a neutral highway for merchant vessels of all nations and at all times. Possibly it may be more largely used by European traders than by our own. But under no circumstances can it be detrimental to American commerce, while in many respects it is likely to give it a considerable impulse, and shipmasters sailing under the American flag will certainly share the advantages which foreigners will not be slow to use. Any credit that will ultimately be due for the completion of the canal must belong to this Republic. In one way or another, assistance may, and doubtless will, be obtained from other sources, but it would be an act of folly to stop in the work at the present juncture, when so much has been done, and at the moment when immediate operations on an extended scale should probably be contemplated.

There was a violent sea and the tide was rising. The darkness was intense. Most of the male passengers were awake, and there was the usual rush for the boats, but nearly all the boats were staved. One boat with a few sailors left the ship in a cowardly manner, refusing aid. Two boats were saved. The Captain endeavored to compel obedience by firing a revolver over their heads. During two hours six cannon-shots were fired, when the powder dampened. Distress signals, rockets, and blue lights were unanswered. At midnight the fog lifted, in a minute revealing the light-house. The waves were still sweeping the decks and carrying away victims. At 2 o'clock the deck-house, in which were the women and children, was swept away. The cries and shricks of the victims were heartrending There followed a ghastly silence aft. The smokestack fell, crushing some of the boats and two others were carried away. The remaining passengers followed the Captain to the forward bridge. Each wave took fresh victims. Some sought refuge in the mainmast and some on the foremast. At 3 o'clock the Captain and two other officers were on the bridge. The Captain descended for a moment to render assistance and was swept away,

"THUS PERISHED A BRAVE MAN," says Mr. Stern. At this time about ten persons were clinging to the rigging of the mainmast and thirty to that of the foremast. The ship had careened, her yards touching the water, and the tide was rising. Wherever Bishop Soule's Liniment is known, the People become its advertisers. Its value is estimated by those who have used it at from $5 to $1,000 per by those who have used it at from $5 to $1,500 per bottle. The following are a few items which have come to us, and are of daily occurrence:

A man borrowed a part of a bottle of Bishop Soule's Liniment of his neighbor, for immediate use. A few days after, he bought three large bottles, returned a fall bottle for the one borrowed, and told his neighbor that he would not be without Bishop Soule's Liniment in his honce if it cost $250 per bottle. Another, who had suffered twelve years from a lame knee, was cured with Bishop Scule's Liniment, and said it was worth $1,000 per bottle. Another, who had suffered many years from lamacess, so that he could not walk with-out crutches, writes that he is cured by using Bishop out crutches, writes that he is cured by using Bishop Soule's Liniment, and easy that you comme provise it too highly. Another, who had suffered from rheuma-tism four years, and could get no relief, said his friends, wherever he went, advised him to use Bishop Soule's Uniment. He had heard it so many times, that he had got out of patience with them, and would buy a bettle, and try it, but he knew it would not do him any coul; and whenever any one ware recommended. any good; and whenever any one ever recommended it to him again be would fell them he had used it, and it was no better than anything else. Well, he bought one bottle; soon after, two bottles more. He was completely cured of his rhaumatism, and although he completely cured of his rheumatism, and although he is not a dealer in medicine, he has bought of us and sold forty-six diame bottles. Another man says: "It thank God, and Bishop Soule's Liniment, that after four years suffering from Scinitea, I am a well man again." Another, "Bishop Soule's Liniment has not only saved me from a great deal of suffaring, but has also saved me from a great deal of suffaring, but has also saved my life, You ought to procinim it to the world, and let the people know that you have got something that will consistent." You ought to let everybody know what lishep Soule's Liniment will do; it is the best thing in the world." Another, "I had a very severe attack of sciation; was under my physician's ears for a long time, without any benefit. I finally asked Dr.—. a prominent physician, if he sould care me. He said he thought he could. I told him I would put my time against his; if he cured me I would give him $300, if not cured, we were to quit even. He tried it, and finally gave me up as insurable. I then tried Bishop Soule's Liminent, and in six weeks was entirely sured. I want six bottles to give to my friends."
